Army Decides Not to Extend Guard's Period of Service

Only Grave Emergency Will Cause Change in Arrangements

Washington, March 20—(AP)—A high army authority disclosed today that, barring the gravest emergency, the war department had decided to demobilize National Guard units upon completion of their year in federal service.

The same policy also will apply, it was said, to the thousands of men who have been or are to be inducted into the army for a year's training under the selective service act.

Reports have circulated in recent weeks that the guard's tour of active service might be extended six months or even a year, in view of world conditions.

The war department has been studying the question in regard both to Guardsmen and selective service trainees. Congressional approval would be necessary to extend the training periods, under existing circumstances.

The army's decision against requesting any extension in the service periods was because the primary purpose of the present peacetime defense preparations was to train as large a number of men as possible. Therefore, the land forces will be kept up to their intended strength of 1,418,000 men by the induction of fresh selective service quotas and additional three year enlistments in the regular army.

Full Strength in June

The full strength of 1,418,000 will be reached in June, according to present plans. The army then will be composed of about 500,000 regulars, 300,000 to 375,000 guardsmen and 600,000 or more selective service trainees.

National Guard units, making up 15 divisions, will begin completing their year's service next September and in the ensuing six months all should be demobilized, unless circumstances dictate a new decision.

Under the 1920 national defense act, the guard's active service in time of national emergency is limited to one year.

Only recently General George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff, expressed doubt that the army would be strong enough to permit demobilization of the trained and seasoned Guardsmen next fall and winter. Recent surveys of the progress of the training program, however, were understood to have removed those doubts and to have persuaded him to decide upon the present policy.

1st Consolidation Bill Is Introduced

Springfield, Ill., March 20—(AP)—Governor Green's first governmental reorganization proposal was placed before the Illinois legislature today when a bill was introduced in the house to abolish the present seven-man parole board and consolidate all of the state's crime fighting bureaus in a new department of public safety.

Under the administration bill introduced by House Majority Leader Frederick W. Rennie of Buda, the new parole system would be administered by a professionally-trained board consisting of the state criminologist and the superintendents of prisons, paroles, supervision of parolees and crime prevention.

The Director of Public Safety—who would supervise the state police, the fire marshal's office and the division of correction—also would have final veto power over any parole action recommended by the five-man parole board.

The reorganization program was drafted by a committee headed by Welfare Director Rodney H. Brandon, who said that a parole board of professionally-trained men as suggested in the Rennie bill "would be infinitely better than the present system of appointing men to the parole board merely because they have some political influence."

Sullivan May Direct

T. P. Sullivan, recently appointed by Governor Green as superintendent of the state highway police, was regarded in Republican circles as likely to be named director of the new public safety department, a post paying $8,000 a year if the legislature approves the governor's reorganization plan.

The proposal would place the present bureau of criminal identification and investigation in the state police department to function as a detective bureau.

All sessions of the parole board would be public under provisions

NO EXPLANATION

Atlanta, March 20—(AP)—What caused the crash of a giant Eastern Airlines sleeper near here that brought death to eight persons probably never will be known, Eddie Rickenbacker, EAL president injured in the wreck, says.

In an interview in his hospital room yesterday, the famed world war pilot said he had no explanation for the crash. "I thought it out all that night and every night and day since. I can find no explanation."

"Why the plane crashed," he added, "no one will ever know. We were just too low by 1,000 to 500 feet."

Rickenbacker disclosed that he was attempting to enter the pilot's cabin "to see what was wrong" when the big plane crashed into a pine grove.

Armory to Become Huge Auto Display Room for 3 Days

The 1941 birthday celebration of the American motor car—an informal, yet brilliant reception with everyone residing in Dixon, its trade area, and beyond on the invitation list—opens at 2 p. m. tomorrow for a three-day run under the hospitable roof of the Dixon armory, corner of Lincoln Statue Drive and Everett street.

Final preparations for the big Auto Show, presenting the colorful spectacle of the world's first-rank industry on dress parade, were nearing completion today. Several of the participating dealers have already begun moving their new 1941 models into the special exhibit salon.

The big armory has been divided into 22 exhibit booths, where the shiny vehicles will be temporarily "at home" to all-comers. The surprise gifts (handsome and useful furniture and electrical equipment for the home, evaluated at $200) to be distributed among the show guests, are still on display in The Telegraph bulletin window, but will be moved to the armory tomorrow, according to present plans of the committee. Awards will be made at every session, beginning with the opening program at 2 p. m. Friday.

Funsters Coming
Funsters from the WLS National Barn Dance show in Chicago, including the Prairie Sweethearts, Uncle Tom Corwin, and George Goebel, will be arriving in Dixon tomorrow morning. These well-known radio stars will present three big floor shows, scheduled for 9 p. m. Friday, the same hour on Saturday, and at 4 p. m. Sunday.

Members of the Dixon Automobile Dealer's association, who are sponsors of the show, pointed out again today that it is their sincere

Indiana Farmer Is Held After Blast Shakes Church During Revival Meet

Lyons, Ind., March 20—(AP)—A Greene county farmer was held today in connection with a dynamite blast which shook the Free Methodist church here last night and injured four persons severely. Ten persons were hurt slightly and 40 others attending Lenten revival services were shaken.

Sheriff Charles Blanton and state police apprehended the man, described as a "resident of the Lyons community," several hours after the dynamite had exploded at the rear door. His name was withheld.

The sheriff said he thought the dynamite was "a personal matter" but Rev. R. C. Eastham,

National Defense Mediation Board's Authority Limited

New Agency Named by Roosevelt Can't Compel Pacts

(By The Associated Press)
The United States conciliation service moved quickly today to cooperate with the national defense mediation board appointed by President Roosevelt to compose differences between labor and management in defense industries.

John R. Steelman, director of the service which is a unit of the labor department, announced the division's 110 conciliators would gather next week-end in regional meetings at New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Birmingham to discuss pending labor disputes and arrange for dovetailing their peacemaking efforts with the work of the new board.

Steelman said his division was "determined to assist labor and industry in maintaining harmonious relations to insure the free and uninterrupted flow of work and materials in the interest of national defense."

Such are the broad aims of the board named yesterday by Roosevelt. Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin and director of the selective service system, was appointed chairman. There are two other representatives of the public, and four each of labor and industry.

No Compulsory Powers
The new board will step in when and if the conciliation service fails to bring about an agreement in a given dispute. The board has no power to compel agreements, but is authorized to investigate, recommend settlements, and make public its findings.

Although AFL President William Green called formation of the board a "constructive step," Senator Byrd (D-Va.) expressed the opinion that it would be inadequate to stop "unnecessary strikes."

Aside from formation of the new board, there were a number of important developments in the defense labor situation.

President Philip Murray of the CIO, acting in his capacity as chairman of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, arranged to meet at Pittsburgh today with J. Lester Perry, president of Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, to discuss union demands for a wage increase of 10 cents an hour and other changes in the SWOC contract with United States Steel Corporation. Carnegie-Illinois is a subsidiary of U. S. Steel.

May Go to New Board

Unless an agreement is reached otherwise by the end of this month the contract automatically will be terminated. Some steel sources suggested privately that the matter might be checked to the new defense mediation board.

Efforts continued to settle a CIO strike at the Harvill Aircraft Die Casting Corporation, Los Angeles. The union is asking improved wages and working conditions. Rep. Dies (D-Tex.) charged in the house of representatives yesterday that the Communist party had sent an emissary to California to "sabotage" national defense.

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York pointed a fact finding board yesterday to attempt to settle the bus strike which has stalled 95 per cent of Manhattan's surface transportation. CIO transport workers have asked for wage increases and shorter hours.

Negotiations continued at New York between major soft coal producers and the CIO - United Mine Workers, whose 350,000 members in the eight state Appalachian area seek a new contract with increased wages and other concessions.

At Edgewater, N. J., a CIO strike against the Aluminum

Quick Approval of Appropriation by Senate Is Expected

House Passed Measure by Big Bi-Partisan Majority, 336-55

Washington, March 20—(AP)—Backed by the thumping bi-partisan House majority of 336 to 55, the $7,000,000,000 British-aid appropriation bill went to the Senate side of the Capitol today, where administration leaders confidently predicted it would get prompt endorsement early next week.

Responding to appeals for unity to show the world the United States was wholeheartedly behind the aid program, an irresistible coalition of House Democrats and Republicans sent the record-breaking peacetime bill to the Senate last night without a single change.

Getting ready to match the House record for swift preliminary action, a Senate appropriations subcommittee decided to start hearings on the measure this afternoon (1:30 p. m., Central Standard Time) and called various army officials as the first witnesses.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) and other Democratic chiefs, who mapped their strategy yesterday while the House was beating down every effort to amend the bill, forecast it would be approved by the Senate subcommittee tomorrow and pass the Senate without change Monday or Tuesday.

Senator Byrnes (D-Se.), one of the Democratic strategists, said he had heard of no substantial effort to impede the bill or to amend it substantially. Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate foreign relations committee looked for passage by Monday night.

Hint of Senate Feeling

One hint of Senate feeling was given by Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who fought the original lease-lend bill to the last. Now that the program has been adopted, he said, Morrisonville, Ill., March 20—(AP)—Montgomery county Coroner Jesse Boyd related today that a small dog owned by Charles Adden, 76, had apparently protected the body of his master from a pen of hungry hogs for two days.

Adden, whose body was found in a hog lot on the farm of Frank J. Johnson near here with the dog standing close to it and snarling at a group of porkers nearby, apparently was killed when he was struck by a falling tree limb. Boyd said Adden had been dead about two days.

Fire Truck Damaged Responding to Call to Automobile Blaze

A sedan belonging to David James was badly damaged by fire yesterday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock as it stopped for the traffic light on First street west of Galena avenue, when anti-freeze solution in the radiator, leaking through a defective hose onto the motor ignited and the entire front of the machine was enveloped in smoke and flame. The fire department was summoned and extinguished the fire after which the car was hauled to a garage.

The fire truck was also damaged in responding to the alarm and members of the department assisted a mechanic in repairing the damage. In turning the corner from Galena avenue to First street, all of the hub bolts on the right rear wheel of the truck sheared off. It was necessary to tow the truck back to the department headquarters where the repairs were hurriedly completed.

Probe Into Fatal Wreck on 'Pennsy' Train Is Resumed

Russian Engineers, U. S. Soldiers Aboard Preceding Train

Pittsburgh, March 20—(AP)—Pennsylvania railroad officials told an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing today 44 Russian engineers and 18 enlisted U. S. Army men were on the Manhattan Limited which sped along the railroad tracks near Baden, Pa., 18 minutes before another train was wrecked Sunday.

Five persons were killed and 114 injured in the wreck, which the railroad attributed to sabotage. Railroad workmen said they believed a rail had been loosened and shifted in an attempt to wreck the Manhattan.

W. H. Phillips, assistant general passenger agent, read a statement from M. W. Luthi, assistant general passenger agent at Chicago, saying the engineers were part of a group of Russian engineers and diplomats.

The enlisted soldiers, Luthi reported, were routed from Salt Lake City to Trenton, N. J. Earlier, W. R. Bryant, flagman on the Limited, said he had talked with uniformed men in the last car on the train and that they said they were CCC workers.

No Message on Men
Another witness, W. M. Scheiber, conductor on the Manhattan Limited, said, "I understand they were Russian diplomats or engineers. We had no message on them."

Early Payment of Tax Reported by Treasurer

County Treasurer Ward Miller is the champion correspondent in Lee county, particularly at this season of the year. By the first of next week, his office force will have mailed out approximately 10,000 letters in the form of the annual tax notices.

All of the down county personal and real estate notices have been mailed and yesterday afternoon the Dixon township statements were placed in the mail. In Dixon the real estate and personal tax notices are included in the same envelope and these will be mailed out the first of next week.

Treasurer-Miller today reported an unusually early response in the payment of taxes throughout the county.

Second Draft Registration Planned for Men Who Have Reached Age of 21

Washington, March 20—(AP)—Quiet advance preparations are being made for a second selective service registration day, although only a small percentage of the 16,404,000 men who enrolled last October have been put in uniform.

The second registration would be for men who have reached their 21st birthday since last October 16. By the time it is held, possibly in the late summer or early fall, between 1,000,000 and 1,250,000 will have come of age, population experts figure, and thus will be subject to military service.

German Planes Shower Death and Destruction on London for Six Hours

The War Today!

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

The death and destruction which Nazi bombers have rained on Hull and London the past two nights and the heavy sinkings of merchant ships by German U-boats, even on the American side of the Atlantic, give a fair measure of the power Hitler is unleashing as spring opens the door to what may easily be the decisive phase of the European war.

This fury in the western theater, however, isn't the only point for us to watch closely if we are to gauge affairs accurately. There are several other vital situations.

The main engagement of course is this Battle of Britain, out of which has grown the Battle of the Atlantic. That has as its object the destruction of England herself.

Then we have the Anglo-allied conquest of Italy's African empire, which in reality is part of the Battle of the Mediterranean. Third is the complex imbroglio in the Balkan cockpit—also a phase of the Battle of the Mediterranean. That still hangs fire, but there's blood on the moon.

Fourth, in the field of diplomacy, we have the impending visit of Japan's forceful Foreign Minister Matsuoka to Berlin and Rome, to determine what further part Japan is to play in the triple alliance. That's something to keep an eye on, for it's widely believed Hitler will try to persuade Nippon to attack Britain in the Far East, thus affording a major distraction for both England and the United States.

Finally, and of vast importance, is the grave threat of famine and disease which hangs over Europe. Those two messengers of death have conquered more people than have armies.

The Battle of Britain is the crucial engagement of the war, and if we could foresee the outcome of that we should know the final outcome of the whole conflict. Britain is the keystone of the opposition to the triple alliance (That is Britain plus American aid), and if Hitler can rip that keystone out he is the champion. If he can't he is licked. British Premier Churchill summed the matter up succinctly last month like this:

"In order to win the war, Hitler must destroy Great Britain." Hitler recognizes this fully as he starts to pour everything he has into his duel offensive against the British Isles. Either his air attack or the U-boat campaign is in all conscience dangerous enough.

If Britain survives this double onslaught she will be due to our aid. She cannot meet it alone.

With our full help the Anglo-allies have a fair chance to win through, as I have remarked here before and as I still see it. There seem to be no facts to warrant any stronger claim than that. This being so it's obvious that Herr Hitler also must be figured as a possible winner. In other words, it still is anybody's war.

I believe we are entitled to say this much more—if Britain weathers the present blitzkrieg which is beginning to tear at her foundations, she is likely to win the war. A few weeks will pretty well indicate the victor.

In Africa Britain and her allies are rushing against time to finish their conquest of Mussolini's prized colonies before the rainy season sets in. The job is all but done now, but it can be completed if we speed it up. We need a trained army for use elsewhere, possibly in the Balkans.

The capture of Jijiga in Ethiopia greases the allied wheels no end. This is a strategic point olds was expected to be far less formidable than the task of registering all men between 21 and 35 inclusive which was carried out in a single day last October. The numbers involved are much smaller, the registration machinery has been tested, and its operation is generally familiar.

Of more immediate urgency, however, were proposals pending in congress to alter the draft ages substantially, as a transition toward eventual adoption of the European plan of universal military service for men automatically as they reach a specific age, such as 21.

Report 'Great Fires' in City: Other War News of Today

(By The Associated Press)

German warplanes showered fiery death and destruction on London overnight, dropping 10,000 incendiary bombs and many high explosive missiles in a six-hour assault which Nazi pilots declared left great "fields of fire" in the world's largest metropolis.

Berlin said hundreds of Nazi raiders blasted the empire capital in an "unprecedented attack far exceeding Coventry."

On the Albanian war front, an unconfirmed dispatch reaching Belgrade said the Greeks had finally entered Tepelen—the scene of bitter fighting for many weeks—and captured numerous Italian prisoners.

Preparations for the "Battle of the Balkans"—the expected German invasion of Greece from Bulgaria—moved ahead at a feverish pace.

Reports from the Greek frontier town of Ghevghia, Yugoslavia, said "great numbers of British troops" landed yesterday at the port of Salonika, Greece.

Claim Questions Settled

Berlin dispatches to the Yugoslav press asserted that both the Turkish and Yugoslav questions have been "settled"—without explanation—and declared: "The Greek question is already settled. Only a short time must elapse before this conflagration which threatened to engulf other Balkan states will be extinguished."

Authorized quarters in Berlin said the German-Turkish situation had been "clarified" in a reply to Adolf Hitler has received to his recent message to Turkish President Ismet Inonu—described by Balkan sources as an offer to look after the "interests and well-being" of Turkey.

"There was no confirmation, however, that either Greece or Turkey had softened in their recent stiff attitudes toward Germany."

RAF Strikes Back

British RAF bombers struck back with an attack on the German industrial city of Cologne, in the Rhineland, where the London air ministry reported "several factories were hit and one large building was seen to disintegrate under the impact of heavy bombs."

At sea, Hitler's high command reported 66,500 tons of shipping had been sent to the bottom in forays against Britain's sea-borne commerce.

Nazi U-boats, it was said, destroyed 59,500 tons out of a strongly-protected British convoy.

Commenting on developments in the Balkans the British Broadcasting Corporation reported from London that Turkish Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu had informed a Greek newspaperman:

"We are rejoicing in your victories, as if they were our own."

See "Common Victory." The foreign minister was quoted as saying Turkey and Greece would "have a common victory." Saracoglu had just returned from

President Boards Yacht on Vacation

Aboard Roosevelt Train, March 20—(AP)—President Roosevelt rode down the Atlantic seaboard to inspect a huge new naval air station at Jacksonville, Fla., and then start a cruise in southern waters with some of his favorite fishing cronies.

A special train, carrying the Chief Executive from Washington, stopped at Jacksonville this morning to let him look over a $40,000,000 base which will become a major training center for the men who fly the navy's bombers and pursuit planes.

From Jacksonville, Roosevelt continues down the Florida coast to Port Everglades to embark on the White House yacht Potomac for a vacation respite in sunshine and salt air from his duties in the national capital. He expects to be away a week or ten days.

Roosevelt arranged to board the Potomac in time for dinner tonight and to sail immediately. Whether he would head for fishing grounds in the Bahamas, where he had tried his luck before or round the tip of Florida and enter the Gulf of Mexico, White House officials declined to say.

Invited as the President's fishing companions were Attorney General Jackson, Secretary Ickes, Harry L. Hopkins, Stephen Early, presidential

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE
EXCESS ACIDSHelp 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes
Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pen and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Homemakers of Lee County Are Play Day Guests

Between 75 and 100 homemakers gathered in the Franklin Grove high school gymnasium yesterday for the annual Play Day party of the Lee County Home Bureau. A morning program of school day games, including jacks, rope jumping, hop-scotch, and the like, was followed by luncheon served by members of the Roynolds unit, an Easter hat parade, recreation, and a program.

First honors in the Easter hat parade were won by Joyce Odensthal and Mrs. Day Welty placed second. Prizes were also offered in a costume contest, and those sharing favors were: Funniest boy, Mrs. Vernon Conroy; "cutest" boy, Mrs. Melvin Johnson; funniest girl, Mrs. Stella Colby; "cutest" girl, Mrs. Joy Sandrock; old-fashioned girl, Mrs. Estella Blum; old-fashioned boy, Mrs. A. B. Clatworthy; Santa Claus, Mrs. William Kranov.

The program was opened with community singing, the selections including "My Wild Irish Rose," "School Days," and the Home Bureau song. Other numbers were: Quiz program, members of the Harmon, Amboy, South Dixon, and Marion units; skit, the Hamilton triplets, Mrs. Louis Gonigam, Miss Louella Hopkins, and Miss Marian Mau; one-act skit, "Little Genevieve," Mrs. William Dietz and Mrs. William Kranov; pantomime, Dr. Childs of Franklin Grove, assisted by several units; group singing, "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town," "Jingle Bells," and "Illinois."

Clubwomen Sing on Radio Performance

Dixonites who tuned their radio dials to a Rockford station on Tuesday afternoon enjoyed a varied and enjoyable program presented by the Dixon Woman's club chorus. Mrs. Earl Auman, the club president, introduced the singers, who were directed by Mrs. I. B. Potter, with Mrs. H. M. Edwards at the studio piano.

Displaying well-balanced tone quality and responding alertly throughout to the direction of their leader, the chorus members opened their program with Franz Schubert's "Whither" and "To Spring" by Edward Greig.

A trio composed of Mesdames Alfred Tice, Crawford Thomas, and Myrtle George sang next, choosing Stephen Foster's familiar "Beautiful Dreamer" to demonstrate a pleasing blending of the three voices.

The second group by the chorus members consisted of two negro spirituals, "Deep River" and "Go Down Moses," followed by a reading of James Weldon Johnston's

Wizard Is Coming

Ralph W. Pierce

Mr. Pierce, highly-touted mystic man of magicland, will be presented in two performances at the Dixon high school auditorium tomorrow by Dixon chapter, Future Farmers of America. A 40-minute matinee for students is scheduled for 4 o'clock, and at 8 p. m. the noted entertainer will present a 90-minute program, "Pierce and His Madcap Magic." Mr. and Mrs. Pierce, whose home is at Ashton, are seldom available for engagements in this section, as they travel from coast to coast. In July, 1936, the Pierces were honored with an invitation to perform at a party given by Miss "Sister" Dall, grandchild of President Roosevelt at his Hyde Park estate. On that occasion, Master "Buzze" Dall was Mr. Pierce's assistant.

"Creation" by Mrs. Victor Luke. A final number by the chorus, "Steal Away" concluded the concert.

Personnel of the chorus includes: First soprano—Mrs. Earl Auman, Mrs. Crawford Thomas, Mrs. L. E. Sharpe, Mrs. Frank Deutsch, Mrs. Alfred Tice, and Mrs. B. R. Jacobson; second soprano—Mrs. B. J. Frazer, Mrs. Victor Luke, Mrs. Carl Santee, and Mrs. Carl Kling; alto—Mrs. Myrtle George, Mrs. A. C. Bowers, and Mrs. W. H. Green.

Miss Jeanne Lord, Polo Bride-Elect, Is Party Honoree

Mrs. Frank Cruikshank entertained 20 guests at a 6:30 o'clock dinner party and kitchen shower Tuesday evening at the Pines Lodge, complimenting her niece, Miss Jeanne Lord. Miss Lord's marriage to Austin Stahl is to take place Saturday at the Lutheran church in Polo.

Center trim for the quartet tables were silver sprinklers filled with sweetpeas. Favors were miniature traveling bags in silver and white.

Following the dinner, bridal games were pastime. Favors were shared by Mrs. Sylvia Reid, Mrs. Pauline Grant, and Miss Ruth Krum.

The guests, most of whom are associated with the bride-to-be in a choral group directed by Mrs. Cruikshank, included Mrs. Ross Hedrick, Mrs. Sylvia Reid, Mrs. Henry Stahl, Mrs. A. H. Lord, Mrs. Edward Tyne, Mrs. Joseph Wilke, Mrs. Carrie Wales, Mrs. Theodore Lord, Mrs. Pauline Grant, the Misses Vivian Hicks, Jane Powell, Ruth Gilbert, Ruth Krum, Avis Gatz, Virginia Powell, Betty Maxey, Floris Fouke, and Miss Lord.

PHYLLIS WILSON, EDWARD SHIPPETT, ARE WED IN IOWA

The marriage of Miss Phyllis Wilson, daughter of the Eustace Wilsons of College avenue, and Edward Chauncey Shippett, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shippett of rural route 1, Franklin Grove, was solemnized Monday evening in Davenport, Iowa. The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock at the Lutheran parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wright of Dixon attended the couple. Mrs. Wright, the former Miss Dorothy Noble, is a cousin of the bride.

Miss Wilson was dressed in navy blue. The couple are residing with the

TO FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. James O. Hey and Dick Campbell left this morning on a ten-day vacation trip to Florida. They expect to visit Miami, Key West, and other points.

'Madcap Magician' Will Appear Here

Ralph Pierce of Ashton, Ill., self-styled "madcap magician" who is famed internationally for his uncanny tricks of magic, will appear in two programs at the Dixon high school auditorium tomorrow. Dixon chapter, Future Farmers of America, are the sponsors.

In addition to the conventional magician's tricks—including the ethereal golf ball, cigarette manipulation, and the like—Mr. Pierce will astound his audience by causing the head of Mary Martha, Dixon high school senior, to disappear from her shoulders. Then, too, Mr. Pierce claims to be the first magician to use colored rabbits in the famous bunny-vanishing act.

Yesterday afternoon, the magician visited schools of the city, accompanied by two rabbits, (one, pink and the other, green), which will be special gifts to volunteer assistants in tomorrow's programs.

"Lessons" in magic (guaranteed to leave the audience just as much in bewilderment as when the teaching starts) and a full store of other tricks have been promised for both performances. Dixon students are invited to attend a 4 o'clock matinee, and the evening show will open at 8.

RURAL YOUTH Members of the Lee County Rural Youth will meet at 8 o'clock this evening in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

bridegroom's parents, southwest of Franklin Grove. Mrs. Shippett is employed at the Blackhawk Hotel. The bridegroom, who was graduated from Amboy Township high school in 1929, is engaged in farming with his father.

Josephine May Is Complimented

One of many pre-nuptial courtesies being planned for Miss Josephine May, April bride-to-be, was held last evening at the farm home of the Harry Carsons, with Miss Helen Carson and Mrs. Glen Courtright as co-hostesses. Miss May's marriage to Daniel Mathews is to be solemnized late next month.

Table were made up for bridge games. Those receiving favors at the close of play were Mrs. James Harkins, Mrs. E. Worton, and Miss Anna Marie Hoberg.

The refreshment table was decorated with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a tiny bride. Four white tapers were lighted and placed at either side.

Gift packages for a variety shower were presented to the honoree. Her gift cards read for her mother, Mrs. Walter May, and Mesdames Harry Carson, William James, E. Worton, Carlton Worton, Roy Cortright, Royal Johnson, Jerome Sleeper, Lawrence Boyce, Henry Taylor, Yvonne Prestagard, James Harkins, James Furlong, Kenneth Detweiler, Fred Hoberg, Edward James, and the Misses Anna Marie Hoberg, Ethel Cline, Elsie Neff, Lorella May, Hazel, Sarah and Stella Marie Carson, Betty Taylor, Alice Street, Bettie Ambrose, and the hostesses.

WAR TALKIE

"War Over Europe," 90-minute all-sound talking picture, will be presented at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the Woonung school, H. E. School of Stillman Valley will present the picture which begins with Hitler's invasion of Austria, followed by the invasion of Poland, Finland's stand, occupation of Sudeten, the conference of international leaders, the fall of France, war at sea and in the air, the British expeditionary force, the sea raid of the Graf Spee, and President Roosevelt's third inaugural.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB

Mrs. Charles Roundy was hostess last evening to members of her fortnightly bridge club of 12. Mrs. Donald Clark and Mrs. Earl Weber were guest players. Mrs. Clark, Mrs. George McGraham, and Mrs. Carl Buchner, Jr., received score favors.

DESSERT BRIDGE

Mrs. Louis Leydig invited members of her bridge group in for a dessert-bridge on Tuesday. Mrs. I. N. Habecker is to be the next hostess.

CUBS, PARENTS, HAVE SUPPER

About 70 Cubs and parents attended last evening's scramble supper for the North Central Cub pack at the Loveland Community House. A kite exhibit, and moving pictures of woodcraft workers of Den Thres, shown by Carl Buchner, followed the supper.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chiverton left today for their home in Cairo, Ill. Mr. Chiverton has been attending a meeting of the Central States Circulation Managers association in Chicago, and Mrs. Chiverton, the former Miss Mary McCormick, visited her parents at Harmon.

Atty. and Mrs. G. J. Spatzulla of Chicago have returned to their home after an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Julian. Mr. Julian, who has been seriously ill, is much improved.

Mrs. J. Donovan left yesterday morning for Chicago to spend the week-end.

(Lodge News, Page 6)

FRIENDLY EIGHT

Mrs. William Eller was hostess Wednesday to members of the Friendly Eight club. Mrs. Charles Laidig, Mrs. George Iles, and Mrs. Bessie Buckingham were fortunate in the afternoon's games. Mrs. Butler of Sterling was a visitor.

Mrs. Buckingham is to entertain in two weeks.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and disapproved of by the tools and dupes of the ap-
plauders and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Equality Concerns Rights

Americans should steer carefully to avoid the pitfalls that arise from the declaration that all men are created free and equal. Those who subscribed to that phrase in the declaration of independence
were putting forth a proposition. They were hoisting a banner to which men could rally in battle.

At that time there was slavery in the colonies,
and black children, born in slavery, obviously were not free, nor were they equal economically and socially to their white contemporaries. Nor were the white slave-owners of colonial times free, either;
as soon as the declaration of independence was adopted these people went into battle to gain their own liberty.

Today we are free in the sense that we have the right to select our rules instead of bowing to hereditary monarchism. We are free in the sense that we can select our places of residence, decide upon our own occupations and choose our own reading matter. Our freedom is limited only by economic necessity and the fact that some of us are slaves to our jobs, our prejudices or our hobbies.

As to equality, we are equal under the law. It probably is a blessing that we are unequal in other ways, else we should all be the same. Consider the case of two men born July 30, 1863, in homes not far apart, and decide as to which of these you are equal:

One of these men made it possible for nearly every American family to own an automobile, and so today, at the age of 77, he is known all over the world
as a foremost gasoline engine expert, organizer, financier and planner. The other was able only to provide a car for his own family because the first reduced the cost of manufacturing cars. The second is unknown outside neighborhood.

As to equality, we are equal in opportunity. Joe Louis had an opportunity to study the art of boxing. Any American has that opportunity, but Joe was born with superior courage, muscular coordination and physique. We all have the opportunity to study music, but few of us can hope to be the vocal equals of John Charles Thomas or Lily Pons. They were born with superior equipment. When you say you are equal to anybody else, do you mean you are the equal of Clarence Buddington Kelland, or Sonja Henie? They are not equal to each other, so why insist that you are equal to both?

Most of us, when we see the deference paid to Mr. Silverspoon, are inclined to become sullen and suspicious. "Why," you ask, "should people kowtow
to him? He's no better than I."

Now the truth is that people do not kowtow to Mr. Silverspoon. Some of them are admiring the judgment that enabled him to corner so much money.
Others are worshipping the money itself. Others hope to get a slice of it, or to acquire a hot tip
on the market. The whole thing gives Mr. Silvers-poon a pain in the neck. What he wants is to be treated as an equal, but few people do that. Some scorn and insult him. Others insist upon bending
the knee.

Economic inequality causes most of the world's aches and pains. Many of us are poor because we insist upon remaining that way. Few of us work more than eight hours a day at our jobs. There are eight more hours which could be spent profitably in handling the money we earn. But instead of spending that extra eight hours, or part of them, in trying to put our small fortunes to work, we putter
around in the garden, go hunting or fishing, or read
the latest novel.

Some men are blessed, or cursed, with superior
financial ability, just as Shakespeare was blessed with superlative ability to write. The Silverspoons acquire money just as Glenn Cunningham acquired speed, and when we see them with their moneybags
we say: "Look at the big lug! I'm just as good as he!"

A Knickknack a Week

The propounding of advice on how to be happily married must be one of the major industries of the country, ranking, no doubt, just below steel-
making, farming, and war-experting.

Latest such tidbit of advice comes from Daniel Eisenberg of New York, whose job consists largely of tracking down husbands who have tried to fly the domestic coop. Says experienced Eisenberg, "Variety is the spouse of life. Make it a point to add some new knickknack to the house once a week."

Hm! We'd like a good look inside the Eisenberg home. These must be many men loose on the world who are fugitives from knickknack-filled homes.
And, lest Eisenberg's panacea be taken too seriously
by hopeful wives, let us launch a counter-crusade
under the slogan, "A knickknack a week makes the matrimonial boat leak."

If your children can look up to you, you've made
a success of your biggest job in life.

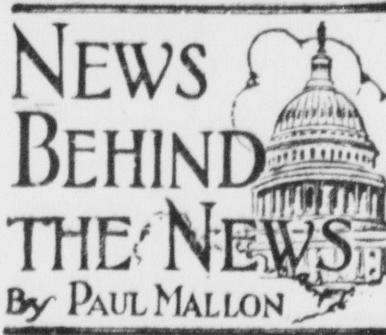

Inside information is valuable—yet lots of people kick about their doctor bills.

One great trouble with a checkered career is
it's always your move.

Heavy snows have stopped some of the armies
in Europe from going slaying.

A man without principle ought not to draw
our interest.

You never hear straight talk in a crooked deal.

Washington, March 20.—From under the blanket of enthusiastic defense publicity, troublesome
cries are coming in increasing volume. More reorganization obviously cannot be long delayed.
The Bernard Baruch statement demanding attention to economic phases, price fixing on industrial products and food, and freezing of wages was only a mild indirect disclosure of difficulties encountered.

The annoyed groups in the trenches around defense headquarters are talking now of the necessity of immediate coordination of economic effects Baruch's first point. Some nickel plants, they say, are on the verge of going out of business because they have insufficient raw material. The priorities board tells them, in a hypothetical case, three-fifths of their production must go to defense industries, which means they must lose three-fifths of their old private business. With only two-fifths production left to supply
this whole outside market, they must ration their finished product among old customers. They could charge any price they wanted to ask.

Manufacturers of aluminum pots
and pans are not far away from the same predicament, and motor manufacturers are only six months
or so away if steel priorities come by July 1 as expected (Roosevelt's Gano Dunn report to the contrary notwithstanding.)

Some sort of economics control
board is called for by these developing facts. Unless some governing agency takes hold of the effects of the vast expenditures, the spiral of increasing prices, the increasing wages to take care of increasing prices, and then more prices more wages, will soon reach a threatening altitude. The symptoms of increased food prices
and union demands for higher wages have already appeared.

Greatest sufferer will be the salaried employee and small businesses comprising the great bulk of the unorganized people of the country.

The weak spot in Hitler's armor still is Italy. The British know it, but cannot get at it.
Unclosed avenues of subterranean information from Rome describe Mussolini as a broken man, forced into retirement by failures. Criticism of his conduct of the war is expressed openly on street
corners, and goes unpolished.
Yet the chances of revolution
or a separate peace with Britain seem to be out of the current question.

Italy cannot break away from Berlin because her economic sustenance is now coming from Germany. Hitler is still feeding in a million tons of coal a month and practically all gasoline and oil
used in Italy now comes from Germany. If she cuts away from the axis now, Italy would face economic starvation.

No encouraging evidences of Italian revolt can yet be seen. The fascist party clique (always working closely with Germany) is indulging itself in no apparent plot-ting against Il Duce, although letting him be the public goat.
Instead it is welcoming nazis into daily expanding positions of power. Hitler's men are in the army
as advisers, in the police headquarters, in all the ministries. Uniformed German soldiers can now be seen daily on the streets of the larger cities.

The fall of Mussolini, therefore,
represents so far only another secret conquest by Hitler. If the nazis can not close both ends of the Mediterranean against the British, they can save their weak
and fallen sister from the natural consequences of her war collapse.

DOLLARS TO DOUGHNUTS

YESTERDAY, Bee examined Toby's quarters, found in wash her own stockings. She remembers that her disappearance
may cause some commotion. Decides to tell her guardian she is going to South America. Clarence will have to find out for himself.
Early next morning Toby gets her out of bed, hurries her to Huntington's and the finds her self asking for a job at the store
she owns.

BEATRICE GOES SOUTH
CHAPTER IX

THE woman behind the desk
reached for a white blank. Before she handed it to Beatrice, she looked her over with cold, experienced eyes. She took in the soft,
golden curls under the small, pink
hat. She noted the thin velvet jacket, the unobtrusive smartness
of the dress.

"Toby didn't spot it," Beatrice thought, unhappily. "But this woman isn't missing a trick." The suede handbag came in for scrutiny, and the brown suede shoes
with the lucite heels.

Almost reluctantly, the woman
handed Beatrice the blank. "Fill
this in, please, and come back."

There was a table in the middle of the office. A long table,
with pens and ink and blotters
and a list of instructions under the glass top. "Be sure to answer
each question. Please do not falsify statements as all references are checked. Give exact dates of previous employment and exact salary."

Beatrice sat down and picked up a pen. Name? Bebe Davis.
Address? She wrote the street and number of Toby's apartment
and carefully included, "Care of Masters." Experience? None. Education? That was a poser. She couldn't write Miss Spence's School. She bit her lip. Some college—any college. She remembered the name of a woman's college at which Grandfather had endowed a chair.

She carried the completed application to the woman.

"Sit down," She seemed to take
in the information at a glance.
"Now what makes you think you'd like to work for Huntington's, Miss Davis?"

"I need the position," said Beatrice quietly. "That's the main reason for applying, of course.
Then, I—I've always thought I'd like to sell. I—I believe I could."

"I see."

"A friend of mine—in fact, the girl I live with, works here," plunged Beatrice. "Miss Masters
She thought I would fit in."

"I see." The woman was positively frigid. Her eyes, the tone of her voice, the poker face, told nothing.

Beatrice found herself becoming annoyed with this person. Was

this the way Huntington's treated people who asked merely for the opportunity of working? People who might some day be valuable to the store? The least they could expect was a reasonable courtesy.

OUT of the past came a remark
of Grandfather's she had not paid especial attention to at the time. "We never know when some world-beating executive may apply to us, in the shape of a frightened, shabby boy who never finished grade school. That's why a store like ours can't afford to be exclusive in the personnel department. I don't believe in this stuff of demanding a college degree and 14 personal references."

"And another thing! A store
like Huntington's must never lose sight of the fact that applicants for positions, whether hired or not, are very likely to be customers, too! Antagonize 'em, insult
'em, and you've lost a customer.
You've also lost their families and friends."

The woman behind the desk
looked at Beatrice with a quick
glint in her eyes. "Did you say something, Miss Davis?"

"No, I was merely wondering
on what basis an applicant is judged. That is to say—if I have not the qualifications necessary
for selling—exactly what are they?"

The woman smiled. "That's an intelligent question. But we need not go into it. As it happens, Miss Davis, I think you do possess qualifications for selling. At least, we'll give you a chance. We happen to be forming a new training
class. Of course, you understand,
sometimes most of a training class doesn't make the grade. It's not a guaranty of a full-time position.
But we train you, give you the opportunity of working in various departments, as a contingent when extra help is needed."

Beatrice thought swiftly. "She'd have turned me down if I hadn't bucked her!" She did not know it,
but she was making the same discovery her grandfather had made,
years ago, when he laid down the first plank of the foundation of his fortune.

The woman turned her over to the store's medical department for a physical examination.

After that she was given an intelligence test. "Aptitude Test"
they called it tactfully. Then she was given a pay-roll number and a card to be punched and led to the locker room, where she put away her hat and coat.

"The training class begins at 1 o'clock," she was told. "You may go to lunch now."

"I'm hired!" She wondered, a little sadly, if being hired could possibly mean more to the girl she pretended to be than it did to the girl she really was. "That fend called me useless. But I'm not useless! Huntington's thinks I can work and sell things for them!"

REMEMBERING the owner of that hateful voice brought Mr.
Weeming back to mind. She asked a girl, "Where's a telephone?"

The girl said, "You'd better go down to the selling floors and use
the coinboxes. They're at each end of the floor. Of course, there are phones in the restroom, but they're always mobbed during lunchtime."

"Thanks." She walked briskly
out to the elevators.

At the third floor (she'd always remember to carefully avoid the fifth and Mile Mathilde) she got out and found the corner where the phone booths were.

A sale of $1.98 housedresses
was in progress opposite, and the voices of customers made a shrill uproar. She closed the door of the booth carefully before putting her nickel in the slot.

"Mr. Curtis Weeming, please.
Miss Davenport calling." She lowered her voice, almost guiltily.

"Mr. Weeming? How are you?
Mr. Weeming, something very attractive has just turned up, and I'm leaving immediately. I don't know how long I'll be gone."

"But, Beatrice—where are you going?"

"South America," she said
crisply. "Er—the Argentine." Was Rio de Janeiro or Buenos Aires in the Argentine? It didn't matter.
She went on, swiftly. "An old school friend who's married to a man who raises horses has er—a ranch in the interior and I've just decided—"

Mr. Weeming fortunately was accustomed to her hair-trigger departures for past pastures. He asked, "Is your fiancé accompanying you?"

"Why, no, he's not." She might as well be as honest as she dared.
"I've become a bit bored with the idea of marrying Clarence and this trip is really a sort of get-away-
and-think excursion."

"Ah," said Mr. Weeming, in ill-
disguised delight. "That's fine.
Now how about your traveling funds, Beatrice?"

"Why, I—I've taken care of that already," she answered. "Don't give it a thought. I—I'll cable you.
Goodbye."

Beatrice Davenport Huntington hung up. And Bee Davis, newest employe of Huntington's Department Store, came out of the phone booth to face a future which was singularly unlike a pleasure trip to South America.

St. Louis' Mayoralty Campaign Being Taken Into All Army Camps

St. Louis, March 20—(AP)—The hot mayoralty campaign in St. Louis is being carried into the nation's army camps.

Democrats started wooing the 3,000 St. Louis voters now in military training by sending them applications for absentee ballots. Not to be outmaneuvered, Republicans quickly followed suit.

To obtain an absentee ballot a soldier must swear to the truth of his application before a captain or higher officer. Ballots must be returned by March 29 for the April 1 election.

Mayor Bernard Dickmann, seeking a third term on the Democratic ticket, is opposed by William Dee Becker, former judge of the St. Louis Court of Appeals.

Southern States Plan Intervention in 'Jim Crow' Case in Courts

Montgomery, Ala., March 20—Seven southern states mapped petition today for an intervention before the U. S. Supreme court in a case which may involve validity of the south's laws requiring race segregation.

The case grew out of a protest by Rep. Arthur Mitchell, Negro congressman from Chicago, that he was required to give up sleeping car accommodations while traveling in Arkansas.

Legal representatives from Florida, Mississippi, Tennessee, Georgia and Texas conferred with Alabama's attorney general, Thomas S. Lawson, who recently invited them to join him as intervenors.

Compensation for Reserve Soldiers Being Considered

Bill to Provide Them With Uniforms Must Pass House Vote

Springfield, Ill., March 20—(AP)—Estimating an appropriation of $1,600,000 would be required to provide drill pay for members of the state's reserve militia, Adjutant General Leo M. Boyle reported today the question of compensation for the reserves is being studied by Governor Green and the budgetary committee of the legislature.

The estimate of the amount needed to provide nominal pay for the militiamen was made by Boyle in testimony before the House appropriations committee. The committee voted out with a "do pass" recommendation a bill to appropriate $185,800 for uniforms and equipment for the reserves.

Boyle said he had been directed by the budgetary commission to find out whether other states are providing compensation for reserve militia organizations. No such pay now is being given in eight states which have thus far answered his query, Boyle added. Likewise the Illinois "home guard" of World War days served without pay.

Awaiting House Action The $185,800 appropriation bill, which has passed the Senate, is in a position for final passage in the House next week. As soon as it becomes law, General Boyle said, uniforms and other equipment will be purchased. The type of uniform to be used by the reserves still is undecided.

General Boyle explained the plan under study by the budgetary commission would provide one dollar for each weekly drill for privates, two dollars for non-commissioned officers and five dollars for commissioned officers in the reserves. National Guard privates received the dollar-per-drill scale but officers received a higher scale.

When reserves are called out for active duty, they will receive the same $4 per day rate as did pri-

A SLIGHT MISTAKE

Manlius—(AP)—Mrs. James Kirkpatrick and baby daughter came home from the Princeton hospital and sat chatting with the family for an hour. Somebody knocked at the door. It was a hospital attendant with a baby in her arms. Mrs. Kirkpatrick had been given the wrong infant when she left and it wasn't discovered for an hour. The infants were exchanged and the attendant sped back to Princeton.

ODDS ARE 30,420,000 TO 1

Decatur—(AP)—Robert Carl Gross was given serial number 1,533 by the draft lottery. Decatur draft board No. 2 gave him order number 1,533. A man with a slide rule figured the odds on such a happening were 30,420,000 to one.

WHAT ABOUT COLOR SCHEME?

Peoria—(AP)—A Peoria housewife washed a pair of blue curtains which turned out to be pink when they dried. She had reached up on a shelf for a bottle of coloring and picked up a bottle of red cake coloring by mistake.

HOARDER DISCOVERED

Decatur—(AP)—A reporter on the Herald was amazed recently while lunching with a friend in a restaurant.

The friend reached into the sugar bowl and extracted two lumps, dropping them into her purse instead of her coffee.

"Do you have a horse?" the reporter asked.

"No, I'm hoarding", was the reply. The friend reached into the sugar bowl and extracted two lumps, dropping them into her purse instead of her coffee.

A SMOKE OR A SMOKE

Peoria—(AP)—The North Adams street car was ambling along towards the business district. A gentleman sat back in his seat obviously enjoying what apparently was a good cigar.

The lady passenger across the car, however, was ill at ease. She complained to the motorman. As the motorman's request, the gentleman obligingly extinguished the cigar.

The troubled woman sat back, sighed with relief, opened her bag, and lighted a cigaret.

Openings for 723 War Veterans in CC Corps

Hines, Ill., March 20—(AP)—A replacement quota of 723 war veterans has been set for the Sixth corps area for the Civilian Conservation Corps for enrollment between April 1 and 20. Charles G. Beck, manager of the veterans facility, said today.

Beck said that all veterans in Illinois wishing to get into the CCC should contact him, either by letter or in person. The 723 quota includes Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Committee Named to Probe Actions of Civil Service

Springfield, Ill., March 20.—(AP)—The legislative committee which will conduct an administrative investigation of state civil service practices was appointed today, with indications the inquiry would be directed by Senator A. Otis Arnold of Quincy. A Republican first term member of the senate. Senators Arnold and William G. Knox (R-Chicago) and A. L. Marovitz (D-Chicago) were appointed by Lieut. Governor Hugh W. Cross as senate members of the investigating committee. House members named by Speaker Elmer J. Schnackenberg are Reps. Rollo R. Robbins of Augusta and Franklin U. Stransky of Savanna. Republicans and A. A. Brands of Prairie du Rocher, a Democrat. The investigating committee, approved yesterday by the house, was directed to inquire into "past and present" civil service law violations and submit by May 15 a report to the legislature recommending means of improving enforcement of the civil service law. Campaign fund assessments against state employees, illegal political activity by civil service workers and compulsory attendance of state workers at political meetings were among the subjects proposed for study in the resolution creating the committee. Senator Arnold introduced the resolution calling for the inquiry and legislative custom provides that the sponsor of such an investigation be elected as the investigating committee chairman. Meanwhile, a bill by Rep. John W. Lewis, Jr. (R-Marshall) to abolish civil service entirely was reported out to the house floor today without recommendation by the house civil service committee.

Placed on Probation—

N. Weed, 15, and W. Jenkins, 13, were placed on probation for a period of 90 days yesterday when taken before Judge George Gehant on a delinquency petition which was filed by Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber. The court ordered that restitution be made during the probationary period for stock and articles taken from the Lightner neighborhood grocery on Seventh street during the night of March 7, to which the youths had admitted.

Boy Has Narrow Escape—

Frances Vernick, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vernick, narrowly escaped serious injury about 12:45 o'clock this afternoon when he was struck by a car at the Seventh street crossing of the Illinois Central tracks. The small boy was on his way to school and ran directly in front of a machine driven by James Skeffington who is employed at the state highway department garage. The boy was knocked down but suffered no injuries. The driver of the car reported the incident to the police department.

Scores of Window Peers Rove Dixon Streets Last Eve

Easter Egg Hunt was Far Above Expectation of Its Promoters

Window peers roved at will by the hundreds through Dixon last evening. No one challenged their presence, however, as all were engaged in the harmless fun of a gigantic Easter egg hunt arranged for their pleasure by 95 Dixon merchants.

Windows of participating stores the length and breadth of Dixon's business district, all attractively dressed for the advent of the spring shopping season, were the center of attraction. There, concealed amid displays of merchandise—ranging from Easter finery to drugs and groceries—was the aggregate solution of the evening's contest.

Just how nearly the six winning contestants were able to locate the correct number of eggs in each store's windows together with the correct answer to the grand total in all the store windows will be revealed at Friday evening's session of the 1941 Auto Show in the Dixon armory. In the meantime, the jury of judges will be carefully tabulating the hundreds and hundreds of entry blanks which came pouring in today. Cash awards totalling $125 will be shared by the six winners.

Excitement Mounts

Although the official starting hour had been scheduled for 7 p. m., many Dixon students were busily engaged with entry blanks and pencils as soon as classes were dismissed for the afternoon. From then on, additional contestants appeared from all directions, and excitement continued to mount as the crowd scurried from window to window in an attempt to discover the correct answer to the problem presented by the contest.

Singly, and in two's, three's and larger groups, young and old took up the search as the evening passed. In some instances, whole crowds of the hunters pooled their findings at the various windows and hurried on to the next, intent upon visiting all of the participating firms before the 11 o'clock deadline.

Noses were pressed closely against the glass and alert eyes peered eagerly about in search of the hatched eggs, which were concealed in numbers varying from three to 10 to a window. Some rode from place to place, except in the downtown area. Others walked—or ran. And all along the route, there was laughter, excited comments and friendly bantering, as additional eggs were discovered.

All entries were to be left at the store of a participating firm or at the Chamber of Commerce, not later than 3 p. m. today.

Camp Life

(By The Associated Press)

Fort Barrancas, Fla.—Ten soldiers attached to the 13th coast artillery regiment have difficulty in following commands in close order drill. The reason: They don't understand English very well.

They come from southern Louisiana and speak a jargon which blends several tongues and favors French. But they're learning the language of the U. S.—and the army—in special classes.

Scott Field, Ill.—Private James Fusco's eyes bulged in amazement when he met Private Frank Fusco.

They're brothers, but hadn't seen each other in almost two years and neither knew the other was in the service, let alone assigned to the same branch, until they came face to face at the air corps radio school here.

Camp Forrest, Tenn.—The 75th brigade school was being conducted in a most decorous manner by Lieut. Col. Campbell Brown when in rusked an obviously raw recruit.

"What do you want?" ask the officer.

"I'm looking for some lieutenant," the rookie replied.

"What's his name?"

"I've forgotten."

"What outfit are you with?"

"I don't know."

After order had been restored, the novice left hurriedly, intent upon learning the facts of military life without delay.

of the Rennick bill.

Judicial Recommendation The governor has announced his parole plan contemplates enactment of the Ward-Rennick bills with amendments that would direct Criminal court judges to "recommend" minimum and maximum sentences for criminals. These recommendations, however, could be overruled and paroles allowed by a four-fifths majority vote of the proposed new five-member parole board.

Republican members of the house lined up solidly behind the Lewis bill to abolish the state civil service system in a test vote today to place the measure on the calendar for later action. The bill was reported out of the civil service committee "without recommendation" and Rep. Charles W. Clabaugh (R-Champaign) promptly moved that the measure be placed on first reading on the calendar.

The vote was 54 to 0 as Republican members, without debate, supported the move.

Hasse-Warner

On Saturday, March 15, at the parsonage of St. John's church in Dubuque, Ia. occurred the marriage of Miss Imogene Hasse and Charles Warner, the Rev. W. O. Sandrock officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Paul Hasse of Freeport-attended Freeport high school and has been employed by the Wagner Printing Company. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Warner of Forreston and is now employed at the Burgess Battery Company. The couple will reside at 204 West Broadway, Freeport. Forreston friends extend congratulations.

School Band Concert

The ninth annual concert by the Forreston school band will be held in the school gymnasium on Friday, March 21 at 8:00 p. m.

All numbers on the program will be used in the district contest which will be held in Forreston on Saturday, March 29. The program is as follows:

Guard Mount, march Olivadotti—band.

Baritone solo—Ralph Snap.

Clarinet solo—Marjorie Mertz.

Cornet solo—Betty Garman.

Crusader's Overture, (Buchtel)—band.

Tenor Saxophone solo—Donald Buttel.

Alto Clarinet solo—Donna Ostick.

Eroica Overture (Beethoven—Shornika)—band.

A group of relatives and friends enjoyed a birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Wirtjes, near Shannon, in honor of Mr. Wirtjes' birthday on Tuesday evening. A social evening was spent and delicious refreshments were served at a late hour. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Wirtjes and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moring and family of Shannon; Mrs. Alice Stinehagen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Nonne De Wall, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence De Wall and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Daniels and family of Forreston.

Miss Florence Plagge of the high school faculty has resumed her work after spending a week with her parents in Elgin, because of illness.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Weekly Food and Marketing
Letter by Mrs. Emily M. Lautz
for Dixon Telegraph Readers

Why should every homemaker become a safety engineer?

The logical answer to that question comes from a woman, Mrs. Chester E. Edwards, chairman of the Home Safety Division of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Edwards says:

"The modern housewife needs to use her common sense as would a safety engineer if she and her family are to live and work safely in their kitchens. Twenty percent of all home accidents occur in the kitchen. These accidents include falls, burns, scalds, wounds, bruises and almost all other kinds of self-inflicted mayhem.

"Then, too, a number of fires have their origin in the kitchen. To avoid these accidents, the housewife must apply the same common sense that the safety engineer uses to safeguard workers in factories.

"In a factory a workman would be severely reprimanded if he tried to balance his weight on an insecure chair while he was fixing a belt shaft overhead. Yet countless women think nothing of standing on a chair to hang curtains."

Mrs. Edwards, long a recognized leader in the national drive for home safety, has enlisted thousands of women in her campaign by contrasting precautions in factories with persistent carelessness at home. Statistics of the national toll of avoidable household accidents back up her statements.

Mrs. Edwards points out that no industrial safety engineer would permit one to work in factories near open flames, flammable liquids and other fire hazards that are commonplace in the home, without providing a fire extinguisher for the protection of the worker and the property.

After careful study of statistics compiled on home accidents for the last two years, the chairman of the Home Safety Division of the General Federation offers the following list of danger spots that women must watch if they are to be as safe in their kitchens as their husbands are in the shop or office:

1. Electrical appliances—Discard frayed portable cords. Always turn off electrical appliances when you leave the kitchen for any reason. Do not overload electrical circuits. When buying electrical appliances or fire extinguishers, be certain they carry the approval seal of the Underwriters' Laboratories.

2. Flammable liquids:—Gasoline and other flammable liquids should not be used for cleaning purposes. Send your garments to the dry cleaner or use some cleaning agent that is explosion-proof and non-flammable.

3. Cleaning chemicals:—Lye and other strong cleaning chemicals should be kept where children can not get them and the cans or bottle in which they are kept should be plainly marked.

4. Cutlery—Keep knives in a rack where they are safely out of the way.

5. Clothing—Loosely flowing garments have no place in the kitchen. They invite disaster from open flames, or from handles and door knobs on which they might catch.

6. Clean floors—Water or grease spilled on the floor should be mopped up without delay to avoid slips and falls.

A Safety Investment

The final point from Mrs. Edwards is another reminder of one of those important purchases, which are always being put off until tomorrow in the best of households. Never a day passes that the average homemaker does not hop up on a chair several times as part of her domestic routine. It is poor economy to put off buying a sturdy, convenient step ladder. If using a substitute-chair results in a fall and serious injuries, here is Mrs. Edwards' final safety point:

7. Use a ladder—Chairs were designed to sit upon—not stand upon. For overhead work use a safe ladder; it will have many uses in the home.

NEW WAYS WITH CITRUS

Citrus fruit is plentiful and reasonable. Here are tested new recipes:

Spiced Grapefruit

2 grapefruit
Sugar
1—2 inch piece stick cinnamon
1 cup vinegar
1 teaspoon whole cloves.
Grate yellow portion of rind. Remove grapefruit peel in four lengthwise sections, cut in thin strips. Cover with water, bring to a boil. Drain and repeat process 2 or 3 times until rind is tender. Cut pulp in thin slices, combine with peel; measure. Add three times the bulk of water. Bring to a boil and cook until tender, about two hours. Measure and add an equal amount of sugar. Add cloves, cinnamon and vinegar; bring to a boil. Cook until syrup is thick. Pour into clean jars, seal. Makes 6 half pints.

LENTEN TREATS

West Indies Rock Lobster

Timely news in Lent is that widened distribution of the delicious West Indies rock lobster now brings it tinned, as meat and as salad, well within the food budget of the average housewife. A 10 ounce tin of the salad will serve any of these tempting items: Three salads, 4 stuffed tomatoes, 6 lobster cocktails, 10 sandwiches or 40 canapés.

Thus the flavor of the rock lobster, which the continent looks upon as luxury living, may be enjoyed here at low cost and in many easy ways.

The tinned West Indies rock lobster salad is made of juicy chunks of the sweet lobster meat, mixed with an excellent mayonnaise, pimientos and celery—celery so crisp it surprises everyone.

The West Indies rock lobster grows to quite large sizes, some of them running to more than 5 pounds and the sea harvest is plentiful. The chief beneficiary is the person with a love for lobster dishes, since cooks have found that this savory rock lobster is most suitable for cooking and for combining with other foods. The flesh is quite firm and the flavor withstands heat and the presence of other flavors.

luncheon treat, featuring the tinned lobster meat, called Rock Lobster Newburg—a la Hennessey.

Break the lobster from a 6 oz. can of Rock Lobster into medium small pieces. Melt 1 to 2 tablespoons butter in a fry pan and fry over low heat until lobster stiffens and changes color. Pour off grease and season as desired. (Do not stir when frying.) Add 1/4 pint light cream (or half cream and milk) and stir slowly. Then add 2 egg yolks, one at a time, stirring gently. Finally add 1 teaspoon table sauce, or cooking sherry and stir gently again. This yields 3 servings.

CONVERSATION PIECE

The White Sox "celebrated" the birthday of J. Fred Hofmann yesterday by losing, 4 to 1, to the Chicago Cubs in an exhibition game at Los Angeles. . . . and thus the ball started rolling in the annual Sox-Cub feud which enlivens the local sports parade during the summer months. . . . Hofmann, you know, finally got wise about putting smart money on Wabcon in the Big Ten basketball race, but still holds out in baseball . . . refusing any fatherly advice on the subject.

THIRD MAN IN THE RING

Jim Sharkey, veteran boxer who still possesses no small amount of ring ability, will be the third man in the ring at the Elks Charities boxing show at the Dixon Armory Wednesday evening, March 26, the committee in charge announced today. Jack will preside during the entire program of seven bouts between the Moline and Rockford Golden Gloves teams.

FINAL STANDINGS OF RIFLEMEN

Dixon's rifle club which finished the season with 11 wins in 16 matches, ended in third place in the nine-team circuit. Rockford, undefeated with one match forfeited by Elgin, won the championship with Lena second with 13 wins in 16 matches. Clarence Hill of Dixon's team averaged 290, for second place in the individual standings and Paul Barnhizer was among the first ten with an average of 286 1/2, to tie for seventh.

DIXON RECORD SMASHER

Louis Bevilacqua, who is now in spring training with the Chattanooga baseball club at Daytona Beach, Fla., finished the season with a total of 174 points as champion scorer of the Rock Falls Senior Basketball league. Lou (Stroke, to you) made 74 field goals and 36 free throws. Second high scorer was Abbott with 141. Bevilacqua's total smashed a record set by Masini in the 1938-1939 season.

UPHOLDING THE FAMILY TRADITION

John Lindell, nephew of Football Coach C. B. Lindell of Dixon, allowed his former Kansas City teammates only three hits in five innings of hurling for the New York Yankees in an exhibition game Tuesday at St. Pete, Fla. The Yanks won in an 8 to 0 shutout.

MAKES A BIG SPLASH

Ayres Davies, Dixon student at Beloit college was given honorable mention by Athletic Director Lou Means as a swimmer of the college's midwest conference championship swimming squad. Besides winning the conference championship, the Goldfish lost only one dual meet, a close decision to De Pauw university.

QUOTE AND UNQUOTE

Coach Willard Larson whose Canton basketballers play tomorrow night in the state finals at Champaign remarked after the Sterling-Canton game of Tuesday night at Pekin that the Sterling team was the greatest squad he's ever met all season. Harry Kidd, Sterling sports scribe, said of the game: "It just wasn't in the books for Sterling to win, the game being very similar to the Sterling-Dixon regional final in many respects."

HIGH NOON KEGGLERS

There's a bowling clan which spends part of the noon lunch hour each day doing some fancy kegling at the Dixon Recreation. The group varies in size (and scores) each noon, but among those who hold charter membership in the club are Oliver Rogers, Joe Roe, Winston Edwards, Harry Bates, Robert Dixon and Gunder A. Torstenson.

RENEW RIVALRY TONIGHT

Knacks revised basketball team which includes several star players from the Dixon Dukes' team and is now managed by Paul Potts, will play the Brant's team of Sterling in the coliseum tonight. The local squad will leave the Soda Grill at 7:30 p. m. Duham, star player of the Sterling high school team which went to the championship game of the quarter-finals tournament at Pekin Tuesday night, is reported to be a new member of the Brant's team. The game takes on all the aspects of a Dixon-Sterling high school rivalry.

HISTORIC RING TO BE USED HERE

Boxing fans who will be present at the Elks Charities ring show between the Golden Gloves teams of Moline and Rockford Wednesday evening of next week will have an opportunity of seeing the leatherpushers perform in a ring which has a historic background. The ring to be used in the Elks show was originally used by Jack Dempsey in 1923 in his training camp where he was preparing for his title championship bout with the French heavy-weight, Georges Carpentier.

ALL DRESSED UP AND SOMEWHERE TO GO

Carl "Slats" Hasselberg will be all decked out when he meets Charles Lloyd, his undefeated opponent in a forthcoming match in the current three-cushion billiards tournament at James Billiards. Carl, one of the local equestrians, will be attired in his riding boots and breeches with cut-away coat and high crowned hat. It's to be a strictly formal affair and no "horsing" around (aw nuts, another pun.)

LOOKS LIKE A BIG YEAR FOR TRACK

Seventy-five candidates for the Dixon high school track team reported to Coach A. C. Bowers Tuesday and last night for early indoor conditioning. Present workouts include rope skipping, calisthenics, and laps around the gymnasium. Jimmie Thompson and John Todor are to be managers of the 1941 team.

COON DOG FIELD TRIAL

The Bureau County Coon & Fox Hunters association is sponsoring a coon dog field trial Sunday, April 6, two miles southwest of Princeton. Heat races start at 12 noon, rain or shine. All trials are made with live raccoons.

ADD TO YOUR SCRAP BOOK OF PUNS

There's the guy who says that Eddleman's theme song when Centralia met its first quarter-finals foe was "The Last Time I Saw Paris." And the scribe who commented about the Pekin tournament: "Elwin Duham of Sterling almost 'Duhmed' the Canton Plovboys by taking rebounds away from his lankier opponent."

CLEANING UP THE SPINDLE

... Scribes are doing a lot of whooping and hollering about their treatment at the Elgin quarter-finals where they were given the worst possible accommodations and neither love nor money could buy a seat at the scoring table. . . . Coach James Laude of Rockford at first refused to play Freeport for the third place at Elgin, stating that the team had played each other three times already and the game would mean nothing to either school. . . . one prominent coach asks why the series of tournaments is called "elimination" when the runner-up of the districts and regionals qualify for play. . . . many think the quarter-finals take away the fun and color of the state finals. . . . no hum.

General Marshall Mentioned As Man to Succeed Landis

By GAYLE TALBOT

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 20—(AP)—Perhaps it is an extremely long shot, but the next high commissioner of baseball might be General George C. Marshall, the present chief of staff of the expanding United States Army.

The question of the next diamond commissioner, naturally arose at the meeting of major and minor league magnates here yesterday, when one of the requests made by the minor leaguers was that they be given a chance to help name the eventual successor of the present baseball commissioner, Keneaw Mountain Landis.

There is no particular rush to locate a successor to "the judge," as he still is hale and hearty and playing his daily round of golf over the nearby Belleair course. But there is no harm in reporting that General Marshall made a rent impression on the baseball colony in a recent one-night stand on the Florida west coast.

Comment of Executive

Names, unfortunately, cannot be used at the moment, but one of the games' top executives said this:

"I couldn't think of a man now who would make such a fine commissioner. He's fairly young and he's a nut about baseball. Of course, it's difficult to say whether he would be interested in such a job—holding the job he does now."

"Don't worry about that," interjected a member of the party. "Did you ever heard of anybody who wasn't interested in a job at about $75,000 a year?"

Every club in the National League has received a supply of special new helmets to protect its batsmen from being smashed on the head by pitchers. They were ordered by President Ford Frick as an experiment, and may be used or not as the individual player wishes.

They are very neat, practically fitting under the cap and it is doubtful they ever will be detected from the stand.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

Oakland, Calif.—Leroy Evans, 202, Buffalo, N. Y., knocked out Blimp Williams, 276, Fresno, Cal. (3).

New Haven, Conn.—Al Gainer, 176, New Haven, outpointed Henry Moroz, 187, New York, (10).

San Antonio, Tex.—Bad weather has handicapped the St. Louis Browns so much that Manager Fred Haney has given up hope of getting his entire pitching staff in shape for the opening of the American League season.

PIEMEN LOSE IN BOWLING MATCH WITH WILLIAMS

Sunkist Team Bumped Out of Share For Lead in Loop

There was more pie tossing than in an old Mack Sennett comedy at the Dixon Recreation last night where the Williams DeSoto quished the Sunkist piemen in three games to bump the losers out of a share for the lead. In the fray the Wilbur Lumber company came out with second place, the piemen slipped to third and the United Cigar team took fourth. Still tied for fifth are the Plovman's Knacks and Dixon Machine Works.

In the Williams victory the pace was set by Captain Wayne Williams who rolled a 555 series. Leading the losers was Carlson with 514.

Wilbur Lumber company won three games from Keeley's Beer with Badger rolling 545 for the winners and Capton counting 488 for the losers.

Other 3-Game Winners

Also in the three-game victory class were the bowlers of the Schlitz Beer team who defeated the I. N. U. Leading the winners was Miller with 567 while Schertner counted 512 for the three-man utilities team.

Coca Cola won three games from the Hi-Way Grill. Leading the winners was Oehl with a 521 series and F. Smith counted 536 for the losers.

Walter Knack's team won two games from the Welty Pontiacs. Setting the pace for the winners was Klein with 568 and Lesser scored 530 for the losers.

Plovman's team won two games from the Beier's Bread outfit. A 549 series by Plovman led the winners and H. McCordie rolled 587 for the losers.

Potters won two games from Jay's Tavern. Leading the winners was M. Potter with a 521 series and Huggins counted 506 for the losers.

Dixon Machine Works won two games from the United Cigar quintet. Ostrander chalked up a 561 series to lead the winners and the smokers were paced by Keenan with a 530 count.

Urbana Is Seen As Darkhorse of Basketball Finals

Chicago, March 20—(AP)—Many Illinois prep basketball observers long agreed that Centralia is the team to beat for the state title, are ready to nominate Urbana as a likely dark horse. Despite the fact the team has lost 10 games, more than the three other finalists combined, it has improved rapidly since regional play.

It also has developed a top scoring threat in Lanky Fred Green, center who scored 51 points in his last two games. This effort outdid that of Dwight Eddleman, the state's record breaking scorer who has paced Centralia to 42 consecutive victories. Eddleman's best in the quarter final tournaments was 40 points.

Of the four finalists, which include Canton and Morton of Cicero, Urbana never has won a state basketball title. With Morton it gives the finals at Champaign Friday and Saturday two teams which have moved up despite regional setbacks. Both lost their regional finals but advanced since finalists qualified for sectional play.

Steady Rise In Prestige

Following Urbana's setback to the then undefeated homer, the team coached by Lew Stephens trimmed Champaign, which had beaten it twice before and then ran over Collinsville and Pittsfield in the quarters final tournament.

Urbana's first foe in its title bid will be the clever ball handling Canton Plovs, winners of 26 games in 29 starts. Centralia's first opponent will be Morton, which has won 21 games, and lost four.

Canton, which has reached the state finals 14 times since 1912, won the title in 1928. Morton won it in 1932, while Centralia won in 1918 and 1922.

First round play at Champaign will be held Friday night with the finals on Saturday night.

QUARTER FINALS IN STATE INDEPENDENT BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT ARE TONIGHT

East Peoria, Ill., March 20—(AP)—The quarter finals in the Illinois Independent Association's state basketball tournament were scheduled tonight.

The first game will pit the Danville Sandusky's against the Springfield Sterns, to be followed by the Peoria Caterpillars meeting the Herrin Supplies. Other quarter-finals engagements: Scott Field Army Fliers vs. Danville Muehsacks and Patoka Wasmens vs. Ellisworths of Bloomington. Last night's results: Scott Field 50, Carbondale Aces 39; Patoka 57, Granite City Fleishchmans 42; Danville Muehsacks 31, Springfield Black Sox 17; Ellisworths 43, Mt. Vernon Silver Streaks 35.

Rockford Athlete to Fight Here

FRANK ALONZO

Frank Alonzo, already well known to Dixon basketball fans for his outstanding ability as a member of the East Rockford high school team this season, will make his debut in Dixon boxing circles next Wednesday when an excellent card of seven bouts will be presented for Elks Charities at the Dixon Armory.

Alonzo, a Golden Gloves fighter, weighs 180 pounds and is the Rockford novice heavyweight champion. He will appear here with the leatherpushers being brought by Trainer Elwood McReynolds, a former Dixon athlete.

Opposing the Rockford fighters will be seven topknotch performers from Moline, members of the highly rated Bert Visconti team. Tickets for the first boxing show in Dixon this year will be on sale within a few days and the entire proceeds will be used for Elks Charities of Dixon Lodge, No. 779, B. P. O. E.

Sports Roundup

New York, March 20—(The Special News Service)—Whoops and shades of the old Gas House! The Cards sent Billy Southworth a basket of flowers on his 48th birthday. . . . Red Face, Sam Simons, caterer at the Boston Garden, Monday cooked 1,500 hot dogs for the opening of a basketball tournament—which starts tomorrow. . . . When Detroit played the Senators at Orlando, only Tiger cheered was Hank Greenberg. . . .

Is She Dizzy?

Mrs. D. Dean, who is minding the farm while Dix is in camp, was so thrilled when she sold three dozen eggs for 45 cents that she shot old Dix a wire—costing $1.65.

Florida Flashes

Education pays: John Grodzicki, who looks like $75,000 worth of pitching talent for the Cardinals, is a graduate of Ray Don's Hot Springs University of the Diamond. . . . Ernie Lombardi's ankle is acting up. . . . When Dizzy Trout didn't show up to pitch the other day, Manager Del Baker found him hollering his head off, padlocked in a sound proof broadcasting booth where some prankish players had locked him. . . .

Bill Terry now hinting Giants will start the season with Ott on third and Joe Moore in right. . . . When Umpire Ziggy Sears made a questionable decision in the Bee-Brown game at Monterey, he was barred from the club's bus for the ride back to San Antonio. . . . Players then relented, and let him come along, but paid him off with a fine old hot foot.

Today's Guest Star—John Mononey, Salt Lake City Telegram: "About Greenberg, now, personally, I'd rather be a flat foot fielder with $50,000 than a flat foot floggie with a floy floy, no matter how intriguing the F. F. must be."

Sports Tabloid—You should have seen Abe Simon's eyes pop out when someone showed him a 21-inch collar formerly worn by John L. Sullivan. Abe wears a 20-incher, himself. . . . Bob Shawkey, the old Yankee, is taking 150 tons of ore a day out of his Canadian gold mine at $10 per ton. Nice work if you can get it. . . .

Well, here's good luck to Abie Simon. The guy you shouldn't bet a dime on. . . . G. S. Allentown.

CUB CATCHER WAS PILOT—Los Angeles Bob Scheffing, seeking a catching job with the Chicago Cubs, managed Washington of the Pennsylvania State League in 1939.

Harlingen, Tex.—The Boston Bees' chances of getting in their first action since Sunday against the Toledo Mudhens today appeared slim because of continued wet, chilly weather.
